

Peace Plan Reported

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon ordered a halt today to all offensive military operations in North Vietnam "because of the progress made" in Paris peace talks, the Florida White House said.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon's order took effect at 10 a.m. EST and includes "bombing, shelling and any further mining of North Vietnam."

The White House spokesman described the move as "a unilateral gesture" that followed an exhaustive presidential assessment of the negotiations.

Ziegler refused to discuss reports that Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's peace negotiator, and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho have, for all practical purposes, already reached an accord.

He did say in response to a question: "Dr. Kissinger will be returning to Paris at some point in the relatively near future."

Asked if North Vietnam had agreed to scale down its military operations in South Vietnam in return for Nixon's military concession, Ziegler said the White House had no information to indicate any change in Hanoi's military strategy.

Ziegler did say Hanoi was aware that progress in the Paris talks could lead to a U.S. move of the type he announced.

Nixon and Kissinger conferred for an hour and a half Monday morning at the President's bayside office here. It was their fourth meeting in two days since Kissinger flew here from Paris early Sunday morning.

Ziegler said Nixon transmitted the order to halt military operations in North Vietnam late Sunday night following one of his discussions with Kissinger.

Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. was enroute to Saigon to lay the reported new peace plan before South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Thieu, meanwhile, met with members of his National Security Council, his closest group of senior aides, to lay groundwork for the meeting with Haig.

Official sources said the meeting lasted eight hours, the longest ever held by the council, and involved an intensive review of Saigon's positions on an Indochina peace settlement.

From reports relayed from Paris by his own chief negotiator, Pham Dang Lam, and through U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, Thieu already knows what changes have been made in the latest version of the draft agreement which originally was negotiated last October.

Well informed sources said Saturday that Saigon saw "encouraging signs" in Paris on the issue of South Vietnamese sovereignty, which Thieu says must be provided for in any agreement he will sign.

At the same time, the sources indicated the possibility of a compromise by Thieu on his demand that the agreement specifically provide for the total withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam.

There has been no official comment on this report.

The second-rank negotiators in Paris continued their technical discussions today, working on the wording and other details pertinent to an agreement should one be reached.

The chief spokesman for the South Vietnamese delegation in Paris, Nguyen Trieu Dan, told newsmen: "The negotiations have reached a decisive point. The less one talks about them, the better. Let's await developments."

Back in Saigon, President Nixon has ordered a further curtailment of the bombing of North Vietnam as a sign of good will during the current peace negotiations, U.S. sources reported today.

The sources would not say, however, whether Nixon had ordered a full bombing halt over all of North Vietnam, a reduction in the number of raids or a limitation in the areas that may be attacked. Nor would they say if the new orders had gone into effect yet.

The sources said an announcement about this was expected soon from Washington.

The U.S. Command said it had no comment on the report but referred newsmen to its daily communique.

The communique reported that 10 B52 missions, or 30 strikes, were flown in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam below the 19th parallel during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. Monday.

This was the lowest number of B52 missions in North Vietnam since the aerial blitz against Hanoi and Haiphong was launched Dec. 18. And, since the blitz was suspended Dec. 30, the northern limit of the U.S. air attack had been the 20th parallel of latitude, 60 miles north of the 19th parallel.

The U.S. Command also said its fighter-bombers flew 100 strikes against North Vietnam from 8 a.m. Sunday to 8 a.m. Monday. It said they destroyed 12 railroad and highway bridges between Thanh Hoa, just below the 20th parallel, and Dong Hoi, 15 miles above the demilitarized zone.

Corona III; Could Delay Jury Verdict

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — With his trial on 25 charges of murder still in the hands of a jury, Juan V. Corona remains hospitalized today as he recuperates from an apparent heart attack.

After a one-day recess Sunday, a 10-man, two-woman jury was to take up its fourth day of deliberations today on charges Corona fatally hacked and stabbed 25 drifters and field workers, then buried them in crude graves.

The 38-year-old farm labor contractor was reported "very comfortable, without pain and feeling quite well" Sunday at the state medical facility in nearby Vacaville. He was hospitalized Friday night after complaining of chest pains.

Dr. Gordon Mannerstedt said the hospital will continue observation and evaluation and soon might determine Corona's ability to appear in court.

Presiding Judge Richard E. Patton said a verdict announcement might have to be delayed until Corona can be present to hear it, with Corona being taken to court on a stretcher or the jury brought to the hospital.

The jury began deliberations last Thursday into the slayings of farm laborers unearthed in the spring of 1971 from shallow graves in an orchard on the banks of the Feather River near Yuba City, Calif., 80 miles north of San Francisco.

Plan Drug Tests In Grade Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration wants to look for traces of drugs in the urine of high-school and gradeschool students.

The first such drug-screening program, tentatively scheduled to start Feb. 1 in a Harlem school with grades five through eight, won't force any student to submit to testing.

But Nixon's top drug-abuse officials say they will supply federal money for a compulsory program if some locality wants one.

A spokesman for Dr. Jerome H. Jaffe, head of Nixon's Special Action Office on Drug Abuse Prevention, said Jaffe considers civilian drug-screening programs a last resort, but adds "When kids are dying, it may be time for last resorts."

Jaffe has called for public discussion of civilian drug screening like the Army's mandatory urine testing of Vietnam GIs before they return home. The Harlem project, which seeks $70,000 from the Office of Economic Opportunity, is the first to be tried.

It was planned by the locally elected school board in Harlem, and according to board chairman Calvin Alston, no child will be tested unless permission is obtained from the parents and the child himself.

If testing turns up signs of drug use, school officials will inform the parents and tell them where to find treatment. The child's name won't be given to police, health officials or anyone outside the school, Alston said.

If the parents agree to testing but the child refuses, the student will be put in a "peer group discussion" to explain his refusal to his fellow students, Alston said. If he still refuses "we let him alone," he added.

Alston said the test school, Frederick Douglass Intermediate School, has 1,700 pupils, and that parents of 1,000 already have agreed to testing.

He said he believes the school itself is relatively free of drug addicts. Alston said the program is intended to find and treat pupils who are experimenting with drugs before they can become addicted.

Critics of the screening program say drug users won't volunteer for tests that will reveal their secret, and that compulsory testing would be regarded by the public as an invasion of privacy.

Urge Maximum 25-Year Sentence For Most Crimes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national advisory commission on criminal justice has recommended a maximum prison term of 25 years for all crimes except murder and a maximum of five years for those committed by persons who are termed not a danger to others.

Other major charges recommended Sunday by the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals include full access to legal services and the news media for those in prison, an end to the practice of defense and prosecution agreeing to a guilty plea for a lesser crime, only a single appeal for convicted criminals and decriminalization of "simple drunkenness."

The commissions are strictly advisory and have no formal support from the Nixon administration, nor do they form the basis for any legislative program.

At a news briefing, the commission chairman, outgoing Delaware Gov. Russell Peterson, and Jerris Leonard, head of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration which provided the nearly $2 million for the year-long study, said the commission's report contains controversial material such as possibly putting criminals in residential treatment homes instead of prison.

"It was not our purpose to get into extremely controversial policy issues," Leonard said at a news conference unveiling the report. He described the commission's recommendations as a "reference work."

'End Run' On Natural Gas Prices Sparks Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Natural gas bills, which have already ballooned by a third or more during the past five years, are destined to swell even faster if producers take advantage of a new pricing procedure created by federal regulators.

As a measure of what the future could hold for consumers, three producers in the vital offshore Louisiana field have asked for an immediate 73-percent price increase and want further annual increases which would drive their prices to twice present levels within seven years.

Behind the new pricing procedure is a nationwide gas shortage. For the first time last year, the demand for natural gas exceeded the supply. Producers and the Federal Power Commission contend higher prices are necessary to lure untapped sources of gas onto the market.

The requests for the price increases are the first major ones under the new FPC procedure called optional pricing.

Tenneco Oil, one of the applicants, said approval will indicate to the gas-producing industry that the FPC will allow new gas sales at rates "based on economic factors including the cost of alternatives."

The other applicants are Texaco and Belco Petroleum Co.

Opponents challenging optional pricing in the courts charge it is certain to produce windfall profits for producers. Such opponents as the American Public Gas Association have accused the FPC of failing to investigate whether the present gas shortage is an industry creation aimed at eliciting higher prices.

These assertions are denied by producers and the FPC.

Besides the gas association, a combine of municipal gas companies, the opponents include Consumers Union and 21 so-called Concerned Congressmen, headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif.

They call optional pricing an end run around the 1938 Natural Gas act, which originally was used to regulate only the prices charged by interstate gas pipelines. The FPC resisted regulating prices charged by producers at the wellhead until the Supreme Court ruled in 1954 that producers, too, must be regulated.

The FPC regulates only interstate sales, and the prices on sales within state lines have jumped well above the 21-26 cents per thousand cubic feet permitted for interstate sales.

Travel, Exposure Behind Senate Committee Fights

WASHINGTON (AP) — When senators seek committee assignments, a lot of things are more important than a desire to shape national policy on the crucial issues of the day.

The amount of foreign travel, the number of staff positions and a senator's home-state interests often are of greater consideration.

An aide to Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., expressed disappointment that Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., had invoked seniority to take a spot on the Foreign Relations Committee that Brooke had wanted.

But the aide's disappointment didn't stem from Griffin's support of Nixon administration policy on the Vietnam war, which Brooke opposes.

Rather, he said, "There's a lot of good travel there." There also would be some good exposure for Brooke, who has expressed interest in running for president.

When the chairmanship of the Space Committee, one of the Senate's least active panels, became vacant, Senate Democrats were thrown into a tizzy.

Sen. Lawton Chiles of Florida, a mere youth by Senate standards, offered to take it. Someone else wanted to abolish it.

Finally, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield prevailed on Sen. Frank E. Moss of Utah to accept the post.

One reason: Moss would then have to surrender the chairmanship of the minerals subcommittee of interior, making it available for Mansfield's colleague, Sen. Lee Metcalf of Montana. That's a key post for a senator from a large copper-producing state.

When Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., returned to the Senate two years ago, he expressed an interest in the then vacant chairmanship of the District of Columbia Committee.

Afraid that the staff allowance for a senator from Minnesota would be insufficient for a man of his stature, he was reportedly interested in the extra spots available to the D.C. chairman.

However, Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri, already on that panel, chose to take that job.

This year, Humphrey was involved in a flap when the Senate Democrats listed him above Sen. George McGovern in assignments to the Foreign Relations Committee.

McGovern complained, noting that Humphrey had lost seniority to him during his time in the vice-presidency. McGovern won.

At the same time, Sen. William Hathaway, D-Maine, protested his assignment to the Agriculture Committee. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., agreed to make a spot on the Labor and Public Welfare Committee available, if he could go to Commerce.

The result was that one Republican on Commerce had to go, unless an agreement was reached to expand that panel.

The unlucky man was Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., bumped because he was the low man in seniority.

Rhodes' Eligibility Studied Well In Advance Of Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former Republican Gov. James Rhodes was not available over the weekend to comment on his official announcement that he will seek Ohio's governorship again if a constitutional question about his eligibility is favorably resolved.

An aide of the 63-year-old Rhodes said he was in New Orleans, La., Friday, then was on his way to either Florida or Dallas and "should be at his desk by noon Monday."

The statement released Saturday noted "this is being done early as there seems to be a question in some people's minds regarding my eligibility to run."

Rhodes served two consecutive terms prior to the election of Gov. John Gilligan and the state constitution says

"no person shall hold the office of governor for a period longer than two successive terms of four years."

The question is whether that should be interpreted to mean only two consecutive terms, or whether a person could serve two consecutive terms, then run again for governor after a period out of office.

J. Gordon Peltier, Columbus attorney who was director of Commerce in the Rhodes Administration, said he is convinced of Rhodes' eligibility. "There's no question in my mind," Peltier said.

Peltier said that he has prepared 270 candidate petitions and expects to have them filed with Secretary of State Ted Brown by Feb. 1, a year before the filing deadline.

Peltier said that Brown will have to decide whether to accept or reject the petitions. Brown's action with regard to the petitions is expected to set the stage for legal action.

Rhodes, who was governor from 1963 to 1971, has been operating a real estate and development business in Columbus the past several years. He said he has notified the state's Republican leaders of his decision in a letter.

Great Falls enjoyed a record high of 57 degrees Sunday.

Most of the nation had fair and mild weather today.

A new storm hit the Pacific Northwest with rain. Light snow fell from Michigan to the central Appalachians and Upstate New York. Clouds covered most of the Northeast.

The Pacific coast was covered with fog while the coasts of southeastern Texas and southwestern of Louisiana were shrouded in dense fog.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 1 at Alamosa, Colo., to 64 at Key West, Fla.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices shot higher today, triggered by indications from the White House that Vietnam peace negotiations were successful and U.S. bombing would stop.

At noon, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials had gained 5.04 to 1044.40 in active trading. Advancing issues on the New York Stock Exchange held a 7-to-5 lead over declines.

The Dow, which had bounced up and down early in the session, gained more than 1½ points immediately after the administration announced that President Nixon had suspended all bombing, shelling, and mining of North Vietnam because of progress at the Paris peace talks.

Heading the active issues on the Big Board today was Brunswick, which gained 1/8 to 31 after a block of nearly 100,000 shares moved at 31.

At noon, the broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks was up .28 to 65.23, while the price-change index on the American Stock Exchange had advanced .02 to 26.53.

Nursing Home Blaze Kills 4

CHARLES TOWN, W.Va. (AP) — A malfunctioning electric blanket may have caused a weekend fire that roared through a four-story brick nursing home where four persons died and six others were injured early Sunday.

Officials said that the Tusculum Nursing Home, known also as Locust Hill, once belonged to a niece of George Washington. It was not subject to state safety laws governing elderly care institutions because it had fewer than four patients, they said.

"All indications are that it was of accidental origin, of electrical origin," said state Fire Marshal John Landfried.

Landfried said the blaze appears to have started from an electric blanket in the room of one of three elderly persons under care in the private home. That patient, Noble Kain, 85, was reported in satisfactory condition at Charles Town General Hospital after suffering exposure.

Three of the victims were children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frye, who owned the house and cared for the elderly patients. The dead also included Martin B. Grimes Jr., 16, Pauline Frye, a cousin of the Frye children, and Bessie M. Rankin, 57, a patient.

Local fire officials, who battled the flames in sub-freezing temperatures, said those who perished died of smoke inhalation, most of them while still in their beds.

3 Policemen Latest Dead In Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — Guerrillas killed three police officers in Northern Ireland Sunday night, climaxing two days of the heaviest bombing in the province in months.

At least eight bombs exploded, and British army experts defused two others. One blast wrecked a Belfast tavern frequented by Roman Catholics Saturday night and wounded 25 persons.

The Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army was blamed for most of the bombings, but Protestant extremists were believed responsible for at least two of them, including the Belfast tavern blast.

One policeman was killed by a mine that exploded under his truck on a lonely country road 35 miles west of Belfast. Another policeman with him was badly wounded. The army said the 100-pound mine was detonated by guerrillas hiding in bushes 200 yards away.

Two hours later, two other police officers were killed and two critically wounded when a 20-pound booby-trap bomb under their car exploded outside police headquarters in Londonderry.

The deaths raised the confirmed fatality toll in the province's 3½ years of communal violence to 687, including 20 police officers.

The Provisional IRA command in Londonderry said the booby-trap bomb outside the police station was a warning to the provincial police "who rigorously uphold the British constitution and who play a large part in the torture of internees."

Snipers peppered army posts in Catholics areas of Belfast but no casualties were reported. Troops arrested three men in the Catholic Ballymurphy quarter when they spotted them burying a rifle and 100 rounds of ammunition in a backyard.

The army had trouble from the Protestant militants of the Ulster Defense Association, too. Soldiers disarmed 40 masked UDA men armed with clubs in Belfast Saturday night. Late Sunday night, the army said, a group of UDA men jumped a police-army patrol in southeast Belfast and wounded one policeman.

Welfare Reform To Receive Attention In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare reform, a thorny issue on Capital Hill during President Nixon's first term, is slated to get only minor attention in the 93rd Congress.

While President Nixon may submit some new welfare proposals this year, tentative schedules of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees leave little time for a major attempt to change the system.

Newark Man Held For Shooting In California

FREMONT, Calif. (AP) A man who apparently had harbored a grudge for over a year forced his former Air Force supervisor to kneel before him and then emptied a .38-caliber revolver into his legs and left hand, authorities said today.

In serious condition at a local hospital with eight bullet wounds after the Sunday incident was Richard S. Nicholson, 27, a grocery clerk.

Police said they were holding James Francis McGreevey, 23, of Newark, Ohio, in lieu of $20,000 bail for investigation of assault with intent to commit murder.

The alleged assailant apparently traveled from Ohio to settle a grudge stemming from the time the two men served together in the Air Force in Korea, police Lt. Clyde Reed said. He said they last saw each other in December, 1971.

Williamsport House Fire Damage High

Williamsport Fire Department officials listed loss to a house owned by Ronald Justice, Parker St., at $7,000 and loss to contents at $3,500 following a 10 p.m. Sunday blaze.

The fire apparently started in the dining room and has been traced to a defective heating stove.

Folk Dancing Offered At Y Winter Session

Dances from far and near will be featured at the YMCA here, Jarabe, czardas, syrtos, hora, joget, lesnoto or syrtos. However exotic your taste in ethnic fare, they're all on the "menu" as Pickaway County family YMCA's new arts and sports classes get under way. Though strange sounding names, these are some of the most common folk dances of the world and will be taught to local youngsters, teens and adults in two weekly fun-filled 1½ hour instruction sessions, starting Tuesday, Jan. 23.

The dual "Elementary Folk Dance" courses will run eight weeks each, followed by intermediate and advanced courses if interest warrants. The children's class for school ages, boys and girls will meet each Tuesday at 6 p.m., immediately followed by the teens and adults class at 7:30 p.m.

Instructor for the dances is Bill Stewart, of Worldwide Folk Dance Studio in Columbus, who has been active in folk dance programs and festivals in Central Ohio since 1960. He recently spent 10 months in the Orient, and now adds several Chinese, Malay and Indonesian dances to his teaching sessions. He has toured Europe and the Near East, and also studied Mexican regional dances in Mexico City for two years. Stressing ethnic styling,

Jurors were dismissed today after Judge Guy Cline granted a motion for a mistrial in the Gary Swingle case.

The motion was offered by Special Prosecutor Steve Gussler on a legal problem not disclosed by the court. The matter apparently arose after testimony of defense witnesses Friday.

Brinker, Lucille Greene, Ames S. Arnold, Linda Sue McConnell, Everett O. Peters, Clarence H. Shaw. Charles P. Brackett is alternate juror.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices shot higher today, triggered by indications from the White House that Vietnam peace negotiations were successful and U.S. bombing would stop.

At noon, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials had gained 5.04 to 1044.40 in active trading. Advancing issues on the New York Stock Exchange held a 7-to-5 lead over declines.

The Dow, which had bounced up and down early in the session, gained more than 1½ points immediately after the administration announced that President Nixon had suspended all bombing, shelling, and mining of North Vietnam because of progress at the Paris peace talks.

Heading the active issues on the Big Board today was Brunswick, which gained ¼ to 31 after a block of nearly 100,000 shares moved at 31.

At noon, the broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks was up .28 to 65.23, while the price-change index on the American Stock Exchange had advanced .02 to 26.53.

Nursing Home Blaze Kills 4

CHARLES TOWN, W.Va. (AP) — A malfunctioning electric blanket may have caused a weekend fire that roared through a four-story brick nursing home where four persons died and six others were injured early Sunday.

Officials said that the Tuscarawilla Nursing Home, known also as Locust Hill, once belonged to a niece of George Washington. It was not subject to state safety laws governing elderly care institutions because it had fewer than four patients, they said.

Three of the victims were children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frye, who owned the house and cared for the elderly patients. The dead also included Martin B. Grimes Jr., 16, Pauline Frye, a cousin of the Frye children, and Bessie M. Rankin, 57, a patient.

Local fire officials, who battled the flames in sub-freezing temperatures, said those who perished died of smoke inhalation, most of them while still in their beds.

FREMONT, Calif. (AP) A man who apparently had harbored a grudge for over a year forced his former Air Force supervisor to kneel before him and then emptied a .38-caliber revolver into his legs and left hand, authorities said today.

In serious condition at a local hospital with eight bullet wounds after the Sunday incident was Richard S. Nicholson, 27, a grocery clerk.

Police said they were holding James Francis McGreevey, 23, of Newark, Ohio, in lieu of $20,000 bail for investigation of assault with intent to commit murder.

The alleged assailant apparently traveled from Ohio to settle a grudge stemming from the time the two men served together in the Air Force in Korea, police Lt. Clyde Reed said. He said they last saw each other in December, 1971.

Williamsport House Fire Damage High

Williamsport Fire Department officials listed loss to a house owned by Ronald Justice, Parker St., at $7,000 and loss to contents at $3,500 following a 10 p.m. Sunday blaze.

The fire apparently started in the dining room and has been traced to a defective heating stove.

Folk Dancing Offered At Y Winter Session

Dances from far and near will be featured at the YMCA here, Jarabe, czardas, syrtos, hora, joget, lesnoto or syrtas. However exotic your taste in ethnic fare, they're all on the "menu" as Pickaway County family YMCA's new arts and sports classes get under way. Though strange sounding names, these are some of the most common folk dances of the world and will be taught to local youngsters, teens and adults in two weekly fun-filled 1½ hour instruction sessions, starting Tuesday, Jan. 23.

The dual "Elementary Folk Dance" courses will run eight weeks each, followed by intermediate and advanced courses if interest warrants. The children's class for school ages, boys and girls will meet each Tuesday at 6 p.m., immediately followed by the teens and adults class at 7:30 p.m.

Instructor for the dances is Bill Stewart, of Worldwide Folk Dance Studio in Columbus, who has been active in folk dance programs and festivals in Central Ohio since 1960. He recently spent 10 months in the Orient, and now adds several Chinese, Malay and Indonesian dances to his teaching sessions. He has toured Europe and the Near East, and also studied Mexican regional dances in Mexico City for two years. Stressing ethnic styling,

Legal Point Terminates Trial Early

Jurors were dismissed today after Judge Guy Cline granted a motion for a mistrial in the Gary Swingle case.

The motion was offered by Special Prosecutor Steve Gussler on a legal problem not disclosed by the court. The matter apparently arose after testimony of defense witnesses Friday.

Charges against Swingle are rape and assault with a deadly weapons brought by an OSU coed. With the ruling of a mistrial, the jurors were dismissed and preparations started for a new trial.

Jurors selected last Thursday to hear the case were: Letitia Oyerly, Jerry Pennington, Mary Elizabeth Rader, Viola Louise Norpoth, Frank Webbe, Mary Jane Wilson, Martha M. Brinker, Lucille Greene, Ames S. Arnold, Linda Sue McConnell, Everett O. Peters, Clarence H. Shaw. Charles P. Brackett is alternate juror.

Gambling Raids Made

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A series of weekend gambling raids across Ohio reportedly put a crimp into some Buckeye State wagering on the Super Bowl, although the indications were that the average bettor could still find a bookie if he looked for one.

FBI agents, acting in cooperation with local law enforcement officers, swooped down on an unspecified number of alleged gambling operations in six Ohio cities in the coordinated raids, the FBI said.

FBI spokesmen also reported that similar raids were conducted in Las Vegas, prompting speculation that the raids were timed to coincide with phone wagering in connection with Sunday's Super Bowl.

A common practice, called "laying off," is for bookies to relay large wagers they don't want to handle on to larger Las Vegas operations by telephone. Although gambling is legal there, placing a bet by telephone from out of state is not.

Local police in Cleveland, Canton, Akron, Youngstown, Columbus and Cincinnati—the cities where the FBI said raids were conducted—were largely close-mouthed about the raids.

Triple Dayton Slaying Eyed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Montgomery County Sheriff's Department Sunday said Jack Buck had no connection with the stabbing deaths of his wife and two children.

Deputy Inspector Harlan Andrew said that Buck had been given a lie detector test and had been "completely exonerated from any blame in this matter."

Buck, 33, said he was at work when the slayings occurred sometime on Saturday.

Gloria Buck, 26, Tracy, 6, and Scott, 5, were all found stabbed to death by a babysitter who looked in a window when no one answered the door.

Andrew said there was no evidence of a struggle at the scene of the slayings. He added that the investigation so far has "drawn a blank" as to a suspect or a motive.

Propose 9 Ohio Election Law Reforms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democratic Chairman William Lavelle says nine election reform proposals adopted by the party's state executive committee were needed because "restrictive voting laws" have curtailed voter turnout.

The proposals are:

—Ohio should adopt "the most liberal possible plan" of door-to-door voter registration.

—Registration should be permanent unless the voter changes address.

—Registration should be required statewide. More than 20 counties currently do not require it, Lavelle said.

—Candidates for all public office should run with their party designation or an independent label on all ballots. Lavelle said this would be most important in judicial elections and in some municipal voting.

—Voting hours should be extended by two hours into the evening, with polls closing at 8:30 p.m. instead of the current 6:30 p.m.

—The governor and lieutenant governor candidates for both parties should run independently in the primaries but as a team in the general election.

—Better provisions for security of ballots should be made both before and after elections.

—Lists of persons who have voted should be made public throughout election day.

Land Sales Speeded Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The director of the state Mental Health and Retardation Center says new information changed his mind about the method of closing farm operations at all state institutions.

Dr. Kenneth Gaver is attempting to shut down operations at 21 state farms by March 1. A year ago, Gaver said in a letter to the farm managers, "I think it would be safe to assume that should the legislature make the decision in Ohio, then the farming program would gradually be phased down over an extended span of years."

Now, Gaver, although he says it's not feasible, is trying to shut down the farms in three months. The decision was made by the administration... not the legislature.

By the time the administration goes to the legislature next month for blanket authority to sell the farmland, the operations will be all but ended, leaving the General Assembly little choice in the matter.

Gaver said he now has more information which shows the 1972 statements are no longer valid.

Moore Takes Oath

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The second administration of Gov. Arch A. Moore began here today when the 49-year-old Republican governor was sworn into office by West Virginia Supreme Court Judge Charles H. Haden II.

which Nixon trounced Democratic nominee George McGovern could haunt crucial labor bargaining such as the Teamsters' national contract for 450,000 truckers and the United Auto Workers' negotiations for 750,000 auto and farm-implement workers.

Big Labor split into Nixon, McGovern and neutral camps in the White House election.

Teamsters' President Frank E. Fitzsimmons, who will head the union's trucking talks, was Nixon's No. 1 labor supporter in the election, a fact that will be difficult to ignore if the government finds it necessary to intervene in the contract negotiations.

Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock went all-out for McGovern in the presidential race, and officials of his union belligerently denounce Nixon's wage controls.

Altogether, contracts covering nearly two million workers — most of them among the nation's highest paid — are up for negotiation, and a high Labor Department official says privately that 1973 bargaining could be the most crucial of Nixon's two terms in the White House.

Many union officials warn of pent-up demand by workers for big wage hikes that will run head-on against the Nixon administration's efforts at moderation to hold down inflation.

The AFL-CIO's 78-year-old president, George Meany — who was roundly denounced by many labor officials for breaking traditional labor support for the Democratic presidential nominee — emerged, as the title of a new biography describes him, as the "unchallenged boss of American labor."

Meany, after strongly indicating the AFL-CIO would support any Democratic nominee except George Wallace, New York Mayor John Lindsay or "someone who advocates surrender in Vietnam," led the 13.6-million-member labor federation to a neutral position in the Nixon-McGovern race.

Many pro-McGovern labor officials charged Meany was more "neutral" for Nixon than for McGovern, but political analyst Richard Scammon said after the election that Meany was "the man who comes out smelling like a rose."

Scammon, coauthor of "The Real Majority" and director of the Election Research Center, said Meany correctly read that labor union members were sharply divided between the two White House contenders and wisely kept the AFL-CIO neutral. Fitzsimmons' Teamsters have not been part of the AFL-CIO since they were booted out on corruption charges in 1955 during the scandal-ridden

Demos Want Choice For Senate Vacancy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Thomas Kaplin, Jr., of Bexley, is willing to give up his presidency of a warehouse firm holding a state contract for liquor storage, if he is named an Ohio senator. But the Senate Democratic Caucus still wants a choice of candidates.

Senate Minority Leader Anthony Calabrese, of Cleveland, has told the Franklin County Democratic Executive Committee Kaplin will be rejected to fill the vacant seat if other candidates are not suggested. So far, Kaplin is the only selection by the county group.

reigns of former Teamsters Presidents Dave Beck and James R. Hoffa.

The wounds over the election will not heal easily in some cases, and some insiders predicted an effort to overhaul the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education with an eye to prevent future major political splits.

The AFL-CIO Machinists union, a major McGovern backer, warned of renewed efforts in Nixon's second term at "antilabor" legislation in Congress, which remains in the hands of the Democrats.

Nixon withdrew his "crippling strikes" legislation late in the presidential campaign, saying it was obvious it couldn't make it through Congress in 1972.

But his labor secretary, James D. Hodgson, said the question of strike legislation would be taken up again by the new Commission on Industrial Peace that Nixon intends to set up.

Labor leaders — including Meany — had sharply denounced the "crippling strikes" bill as a thinly disguised effort at compulsory government settlement of labor disputes, and fought it tooth and nail in Congress. Another fight would surely result if any similar legislation comes up this year.

The bulk of organized labor was also certain to oppose in Congress renewal of Nixon's legislative authority to control wages and prices in their present form. The law expires April 30.

Administration sources said the White House hadn't decided yet whether to try to extend the present system of controls, modify them or junk them altogether. The latter seemed the most unlikely possibility.

The Nixon administration near year-end pointed to considerable success in reducing the annual inflation rate to a little over 3 per cent a year compared with an annual rate of 4.6 per cent when Nixon first took office.

Most labor unions complained that Nixon's controls were tougher on wages than prices, and were helping give big business record profits.

Auto Workers contracts with Ford, Chrysler and General Motors covering 670,000 workers expire in September, along with contracts for some 73,000 farm equipment employees.

The Teamsters national contract expires in June.

A Page Of Opinion

Age Of Chemistry

Perhaps this generation thinks it is having it pretty tough, but it should save a little pity for those who will come along later. According to a college professor, this generation is eating up the world's natural resources, and those who people the earth in the not-too-distant future will be compelled to turn to chemistry.

It is hardly the golden age the professor forecasts, when there will be no more hot dogs or ice cream, no beefsteak or corn on the cob. Instead, the mainstay of the human diet will be the leaves from the trees, after chemistry has converted them into food.

Chemistry will produce all materials for clothing. If times become hard, men will be able to eat their shirts. Main sources of entertainment will be music and the dance.

In short, people are eating themselves out of house and home, and chemistry must take over.

"Next time I make a house call you might have the common decency to be a little sicker!"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

What makes a person subject to fainting spells? My sister is 48, married, has two children.

Even the arrival of a Special Delivery letter, or a telegram, will make her pass out into a dead faint.

Mr. J. F., Va.

Dear Mr. F.:

Fainting is the sudden loss of consciousness caused by an insufficient amount of blood and oxygen brought to the brain.

Any sudden drop of blood pressure resulting from a change of position, from drugs, or from a severe emotional upset, can cause someone to faint.

Obviously, individuals' threshold for fainting varies. Some may have a fainting spell when first they go into high altitudes.

At the turn of the century, the social and graceful art of fainting seemed to be identified with fragile femininity. It was found that a greater tendency to faint occurred in women who were tightly corseted. This interfered with proper breathing and resulted in inadequate oxygen in the blood.

Fainting can also result from a sudden lowering of the blood sugar owing to extreme hunger.

An occasional episode of fainting such as you describe need not be the cause of alarm. Yet your sister should have a complete physical examination to make sure there is no underlying medical abnormality to account for her ease of fainting.

I would like to include some suggestions for first-aid treatment for anyone who has fainted:

Unhurried calmness and reassurance are probably the greatest contribution to these frightened people. Under no circumstance should alcohol be forced down the victim's mouth.

Loosen clothing at the neck and the waist. Keep the victim flat. When possible, elevate the legs and buttocks so that more blood can return to the brain.

If the victim is sitting in a chair, have him bend the head between his knees. Put pressure on the back of his head and ask him to try to force his head against your hand. When the victim is able to do so, blood is quickly returned to his brain. His face will lose the pallor and his responses will return.

What is meant by a "loafer's heart"?

Miss T.M., Mass.

Dear Miss M.:

All the muscles of the body should have some tone and activity to maintain good body condition. The heart muscle is certainly included as one of the most important of all body muscles.

When muscles are not used, they tend to become weaker and to lose their spirit. This is called "atrophy." It can occur in the heart just as it can occur in the muscles of the leg. It is for this reason that some form of exercise, such as walking, bicycling, and calisthenics, are suggested to increase all body tone.

Well-prescribed exercises are an excellent way to activate the lazy "loafer's heart."

Exercise without over-exhaustion is important for everyone.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the things that make the world sometimes boring is that it usually plods so routine a path.

Yes, the world is too predictable. It would be more interesting — and probably a lot more fun — if fantasy instead of fact were given more rein, and the unexpected happened more often.

Why, indeed, should our existence be so ruled and confined by the rut marks we make in our daily lives? Do we restrict our horizons out of ineptitude, laziness, ignorance of larger views, or shameful cowardice of spirit? We give up too much of our human possibility to the shibboleths of common sense and safety?

We escape our cramped confinement chiefly through our daydreams. Wouldn't it be a lovelier and more livable world if those daydreams came true more often?

For example, to name a few daydreams, wouldn't it make for a livelier 1973 if —

Margaret Mead married Dr. Henry Kissinger and told him really how to solve his problem?

Richard Nixon left the White House two years early to become a $250,000-a-year pro football coach?

Dr. Joyce Brothers ran off with the gypsies and became a fortune teller? Bing Crosby proved he could pull a six-ton truck by the hair of his toupee?

Phyllis Diller's former husband Fang were allowed to tell in public his side of the story of his life with her?

Anytime any employee had a birthday, the boss would put gin in the water cooler?

Muhammad Ali became a sheik in Araby?

The proverb "All that goes up must come down" could be applied to taxes? A fire plug was invented that would do to a dog the same thing the dog did to it? Can't you imagine the dog's expression?

People enjoyed themselves in church half as much as they act like they do in night clubs?

Television would finally solve the problems of upset stomachs, bad breath and armpit odors in America and go on to higher matters?

A druggist would concoct a "respect pill" that would cause teen-agers to regard their parents as members of the human race?

Every girl suddenly had red hair and green eyes?

The Mona Lisa would either burp out loud or break into a belly laugh?

Everybody got what he wanted — and nobody got what he deserved?

We could live just one week in this world without the feeling we were walking through a slaughterhouse?

Monopoly Game Streets Are Safe

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — City fathers have scrapped plans to change the names of two city streets that appear on the Monopoly game board.

The five-member City Commission voted unanimously Thursday against changing Baltic Avenue to Fairmont Avenue and Mediterranean Avenue to Melrose Avenue.

Public Works Commissioner Arthur Ponzio had proposed the name changes because Baltic and Mediterranean are merely continuations of the other two avenues.

He told the commission he had received mail opposing the change from scores of individuals and groups, including the Monopoly Players of Canada and the U.S. Monopoly Association.

Fairness Doctrine

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

If the Fairness Doctrine as applied to radio and TV is to mean anything, there should, in all logic, be some way to enforce it. Yet when Clay T. Whitehead, wielding a birch rod for the Nixon Administration, suggests that loss of broadcasting license should be made the penalty for TV bias, I cringe. The Federal Communications Commission is a politically appointed organization, and its own bias, like that of the Supreme Court of Mr. Dooley's day, must be all too prone to follow the election returns. If there is any agency in America that cannot be entrusted to impose a penalty for bias, it is the administrative arm of the State itself.

The only safe corrective for bias is a public that is at all times ready and willing to stand up and yell. Before Clay T. Whitehead opened his yap to suggest government surveillance as a cure, we were doing very well on a voluntary basis. Edith Efron shook the telecommunications industry into an approach to fairness with her accurate analysis of the taped records of electronic coverage of the 1968 campaign. Then, when the Columbia Broadcasting System made a lame and fundamentally stupid effort to discredit Miss Efron's "The News Twisters," Miss Efron did some most effective item-by-item refutation of what she calls the CBS smear campaign. Her answers, published in a sequel to "The News Twisters" called "How CBS Tried to Kill a Book," should be a warning to CBS that good writers can take care of themselves.

Since Miss Efron set up shop as a voluntary TV monitor, the voluntary watchdogs have been proliferating. Abe Kalish's Washington-based Accuracy in Media, Inc., has listed several instances of broadcasting bias, taking David Brinkley of NBC News to task for anti-Pentagon prejudice and attacking the Public Broadcasting Service for assembling a one-sided panel to comment on a Nixon speech about Vietnam.

taking the FCC to court. The FCC is under legal obligation to enforce the Fairness Doctrine, which, presumably, it can do without invoking the threat of loss of license. A court order to present additional commentary to what has already been said over the public airwaves could hardly be construed as a violation of the First Amendment; indeed, it would have to be considered as an extension of the right of free speech to unrepresented groups. License deprivation, on the other hand, would be a summary form of censorship.

The fact that there haven't been enough broadcasting bands to go round is the sole justification for a Fairness Doctrine. The public owns the air; it is therefore entitled to its fair use. But, with the development of cable TV (CATV), which can be franchised on a non-exclusive basis by local authorities, maybe a good cure for bias can be found, not in regulation, but in competition. The Bell Telephone Company and the General Telephone and Electronics Corporation have recently advertised that they are ready to give pole attachments to any legally qualified applicant. If words mean anything, this signifies that entry to the broadcasting business is now open at the bottom to a variety of comers. Just why the FCC, which was originally set up to award wave lengths, should have assumed control rights over CATV is one of those mysteries of government that this columnist, a libertarian, has never been able to understand.

The CTAV companies in the field range from big Teleprompter to smaller concerns such as Cox, Warner Communications, Columbia Cable Systems, and Viacom International. It would seem to us libertarians that real competition in developing franchise areas would make FCC control and a rigid application of the Fairness Doctrine unnecessary as new broadcasting services are made available to the public. With an open field, wouldn't the situation in broadcasting approximate that which pertains in the newspaper world, where competition is the guarantor of fairness under the First Amendment? I ask in all innocence, and would like an answer from the FCC's Dean Burch.

O'Neill Urges Pay Boosts For Judges Across State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Salaries paid judges are so small some able jurists are leaving the profession, Chief Justice C. William O'Neill said Friday.

And there are some places in Ohio where no one wants to be a judge, O'Neill testified at a hearing on judicial salaries being conducted by the Elected Public Officials and Judiciary Compensation Commission.

O'Neill recited a long list of counties where there were no candidates last fall for probate judges. He said the last three common pleas judges in Coshocton County had to be brought in from other places because no attorney in the county wanted the job.

"We are talking about attracting able, skilled, courageous, honest, wise men," he said. Under the present compensation system, he said, courts "are getting men of less caliber over-all." Even the Supreme Court has "lost

Age Of Chemistry

Perhaps this generation thinks it is having it pretty tough, but it should save a little pity for those who will come along later. According to a college professor, this generation is eating up the world's natural resources, and those who people the earth in the not-too-distant future will be compelled to turn to chemistry.

It is hardly the golden age the professor forecasts, when there will be no more hot dogs or ice cream, no beefsteak or corn on the cob. Instead, the mainstay of the human diet will be the leaves from the trees, after chemistry has converted them into food.

Chemistry will produce all materials for clothing. If times become hard, men will be able to eat their shirts. Main sources of entertainment will be music and the dance.

In short, people are eating themselves out of house and home, and chemistry must take over.

They'll Do It Every Time

Stock Market Ends Year At Record Level

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market soared to new highs in 1972, as New York Stock Exchange volume topped the four-billion-share mark and the Dow Jones industrial average cracked the magic 1,000-point closing level.

Signs that the economic recovery was gathering momentum, and growing hopes for a Vietnam peace helped push the market to new peaks in the latter part of the year.

The year began in the throes of an intermediate rally which began in November 1971, with the Dow under 800.

That rally, spurred by 1971's Smithsonian agreements on monetary reform and expectations for an improving domestic economy, continued through April, when the Dow topped out at 970.

Then came a consolidation phase, during which on three occasions the Dow got back up to the 970 level and each time fell back — in May, August and September.

The market then entered an intermediate "bear phase" from April through October, said Larry Wachtel, analyst at Bache & Co., triggered in part by the rising presidential star of George McGovern and his "somewhat radical economic stance." While the Dow was moving laterally, the market was going steadily lower in terms of advances and declines.

When the Dow broke through the 970-980 resistance level in early November, "everything else was icing on the cake," Wachtel said.

On Nov. 14, the Dow shot up 6.09 points to close at 1003.16, the first time ever above what always seemed to be the unimaginable 1,000 level.

"Breaking the 1,000 barrier was psychologically important to everyone," said Charles M. Lewis, managing partner of Winkler, Cantor, Pombo.

About this time, the Vietnam peace talks began to heat up, adding new impetus to the market's upward momentum. Economic statistics were also strong, and President Nixon's landslide re-election reassured jittery Wall Street investors, Wachtel noted.

"Many of the worries and concerns that disturbed investors at the beginning of the year began to wear down," said Monte Gordon, research director at Dreyfus Corp. It became apparent, he said, that there would be no repetition of the credit crunch that plagued investors in 1969-70.

Meanwhile, corporate earnings reports showed that price controls and profit-margin restrictions were not unduly disrupting business profits.

"There was a feeling that everything was in balance, and investor confidence began to pick up," Gordon said.

So the market entered a new intermediate-term bull phase, Wachtel noted, "a phase which should continue well into 1973."

During this period, various market indicators touched alltime highs. On Dec. 11, the Dow Jones industrial average closed at a record 1036.27 and the Big Board index of more than 1,400 common stocks hit a record 65.14.

Analysts noted that the market's strength had spread out from the blue-chip sector to include virtually all segments of the Big Board and many of the secondary over-the-counter and American Stock Exchange issues.

Trading climbed to record levels on the Big Board, prodded in part by

Blaze Kills Morrow Pair

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Services will be Tuesday for a boy and a 54-year-old woman who died Sunday in an explosion and fire at a two-story frame house in nearby Morrow.

Marvin Goins Jr., 3, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Goins of Morrow; and Zona Howard, the boy's great aunt; were burned but died apparently from smoke inhalation, authorities said.

Marvin Goins was listed in fair condition today at Bethesda North Hospital. He received cuts when he jumped through a window to escape the blaze at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Goins.

His parents, and his 5-year-old daughter, Kim, were treated and released from the hospital. Firemen said that Kim jumped from a second-story porch into her father's arms.

The blaze apparently started in a first-floor bedroom and was preceded by an explosion, but the cause had not been determined.

The interior of the house was destroyed.

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Each Christmas my employer gives me a turkey. Do I have to include the value of this gift in my income?

A. No. If, to promote goodwill, your employer makes a general distribution of turkeys, hams, or other items of merchandise of nominal value at Christmas or another holiday, the value of these gifts is not income.

However, if your employer distributes cash, gift certificates, or similar items of readily convertible cash value, the value of such gifts is additional salary or wages.

Q. I moved last May. How can I be sure the Internal Revenue Service will send my tax forms to my new address?

A. Just leave your new address with the post office in your old neighborhood. The post office will forward the forms to you. When you get your 1972 income tax return, be sure to correct your address on the label in your tax return packet.

If you do not receive your tax forms package in the mail, you can obtain blank forms at any IRS office, most banks and post offices.

Q. My employer is transferring me to another state. What are the rules for deducting moving expenses?

A. In general, your moving expenses are deductible if you satisfy certain distance and time requirements. The distance between your new place of work and your old residence must be at least 50 miles farther than the distance from your old residence to your old place of work. Secondly, during the 12-month period immediately after your arrival in the general area of your new place of work, you must have worked full-time for at least 39 weeks. If you are self-employed, a different time requirement applies.

For more details, write your Internal Revenue district office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 521, "Tax Information on Moving Expenses."

Q. Both my wife and I are having dental work done and I'm going to have a big medical expense deduction this year. Is there any way to get some kind of benefit for this now to help me pay some of the bills?

A. Yes. You may be able to have your employer reduce your income tax withholding based on the larger itemized deductions you expect. Instructions for making this change are given on Form W-4. Ask your employer or your local IRS office for a copy.

Train Derails South Of Lima, 2nd In 2 Weeks

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Ten flatbed Erie-Lackawanna freight cars loaded with 11 semi-rigs derailed south of here early Sunday—the second train derailment in this area in two weeks.

There were no injuries in Sunday's derailment, which officials said was caused by a crossover switch that failed to close completely.

A derailment Jan. 4 resulted in the death of a young girl and left several persons injured. When that train left the tracks it hit tanks filled with explosive material.

When the tanks exploded debris was scattered for several blocks, a fire started and officials were forced to evacuate persons living in nearby homes.

Stock Market Ends Year At Record Level

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market soared to new highs in 1972, as New York Stock Exchange volume topped the four-billion-share mark and the Dow Jones industrial average cracked the magic 1,000-point closing level.

Signs that the economic recovery was gathering momentum, and growing hopes for a Vietnam peace helped push the market to new peaks in the latter part of the year.

The year began in the throes of an intermediate rally which began in November 1971, with the Dow under 800.

That rally, spurred by 1971's Smithsonian agreements on monetary reform and expectations for an improving domestic economy, continued through April, when the Dow topped out at 970.

Then came a consolidation phase, during which on three occasions the Dow got back up to the 970 level and each time fell back — in May, August and September.

The market then entered an intermediate "bear phase" from April through October, said Larry Wachtel, analyst at Bache & Co., triggered in part by the rising presidential star of George McGovern and his "somewhat radical economic stance." While the Dow was moving laterally, the market was going steadily lower in terms of advances and declines.

When the Dow broke through the 970-980 resistance level in early November, "everything else was icing on the cake," Wachtel said.

On Nov. 14, the Dow shot up 6.09 points to close at 1003.16, the first time ever above what always seemed to be the unimaginable 1,000 level.

"Breaking the 1,000 barrier was psychologically important to everyone," said Charles M. Lewis, managing partner of Winkler, Cantor, Pomboy.

About this time, the Vietnam peace talks began to heat up, adding new impetus to the market's upward momentum. Economic statistics were also strong, and President Nixon's landslide re-election reassured jittery Wall Street investors, Wachtel noted.

"Many of the worries and concerns that disturbed investors at the beginning of the year began to wear down," said Monte Gordon, research director at Dreyfus Corp. It became apparent, he said, that there would be no repetition of the credit crunch that plagued investors in 1969-70.

Meanwhile, corporate earnings reports showed that price controls and profit-margin restrictions were not unduly disrupting business profits.

"There was a feeling that everything was in balance, and investor confidence began to pick up," Gordon said.

So the market entered a new intermediate-term bull phase, Wachtel noted, "a phase which should continue well into 1973."

During this period, various market indicators touched all-time highs. On Dec. 11, the Dow Jones industrial average closed at a record 1036.27 and the Big Board index of more than 1,400 common stocks hit a record 65.14.

Analysts noted that the market's strength had spread out from the blue-chip sector to include virtually all segments of the Big Board and many of the secondary over-the-counter and American Stock Exchange issues.

Trading climbed to record levels on the Big Board, prodded in part by heavy institutional activity. On March 14, a 5,245,000-share block of American Motors was sold by Kaiser Industries, in line with its previously announced intention to get out of the auto business.

The sale represented the largest single block ever traded in terms of number of shares. The previous record had been a 3,248,000-share Allis Chalmers block traded Feb. 8, 1971.

Snags in the Vietnam peace talks caused the market to pull back somewhat in late December, but most analysts were still anticipating a bullish 1973.

"There is a strong feeling that next year will be a better year than 1972, and we expect the Dow to be in the 1,200 area by mid-1973," said Lewis.

"The biggest risk next year is the threat of possible restimulated inflationary pressures," declared Robert Johnson, analyst with Paine Webber, Jackson & Curtis. "It's a big labor negotiating year, and everybody will be keeping an eye out on the autoworker talks scheduled for September," he said.

Blaze Kills Morrow Pair

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Services will be Tuesday for a boy and a 54-year-old woman who died Sunday in an explosion and fire at a two-story frame house in nearby Morrow.

Marvin Goins Jr., 3, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Goins of Morrow; and Zona Howard, the boy's great aunt; were burned but died apparently from smoke inhalation, authorities said.

Marvin Goins was listed in fair condition today at Bethesda North Hospital. He received cuts when he jumped through a window to escape the blaze at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Goins.

His parents, and his 5-year-old daughter, Kim, were treated and released from the hospital. Firemen said that Kim jumped from a second-story porch into her father's arms.

The blaze apparently started in a first-floor bedroom and was preceded by an explosion, but the cause had not been determined.

The interior of the house was destroyed.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Each Christmas my employer gives me a turkey. Do I have to include the value of this gift in my income?

A. No. If, to promote goodwill, your employer makes a general distribution of turkeys, hams, or other items of merchandise of nominal value at Christmas or another holiday, the value of these gifts is not income.

However, if your employer distributes cash, gift certificates, or similar items of readily convertible cash value, the value of such gifts is additional salary or wages.

Q. I moved last May. How can I be sure the Internal Revenue Service will send my tax forms to my new address?

A. Just leave your new address with the post office in your old neighborhood. The post office will forward the forms to you. When you get your 1972 income tax return, be sure to correct your address on the label in your tax return packet.

If you do not receive your tax forms package in the mail, you can obtain blank forms at any IRS office, most banks and post offices.

Q. My employer is transferring me to another state. What are the rules for deducting moving expenses?

A. In general, your moving expenses are deductible if you satisfy certain distance and time requirements. The distance between your new place of work and your old residence must be at least 50 miles farther than the distance from your old residence to your old place of work. Secondly, during the 12-month period immediately after your arrival in the general area of your new place of work, you must have worked full-time for at least 39 weeks. If you are self-employed, a different time requirement applies.

For more details, write your Internal Revenue district office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 521, "Tax Information on Moving Expenses."

Q. Both my wife and I are having dental work done and I'm going to have a big medical expense deduction this year. Is there any way to get some kind of benefit for this now to help me pay some of the bills?

A. Yes. You may be able to have your employer reduce your income tax withholding based on the larger itemized deductions you expect. Instructions for making this change are given on Form W-4. Ask your employer or your local IRS office for a copy.

Clean Air Killing London's Plane Tree

LONDON (AP) — London's clean air means death to hundreds of the city's plane trees. They're dying of sunstroke.

Said David Burdekin of the Forestry Commission research laboratory: "For some reason the plane is particularly susceptible to early morning sunlight after a night of hard frost. Until recently, because of air pollution, it never saw any early sun. But now we are getting both hard frost and strong morning sunlight. The effect is to kill off the planes."

Police Drug Storage Thefts Spark Changes

By LOUIS COOK
Associated Press Writer

The recently reported disappearance of several hundred pounds of illicit narcotics from police storage areas in New York City has caused officials in other areas to take a fresh look at their own methods of handling confiscated drugs.

An Associated Press survey of half a dozen major cities showed that authorities rely on sealed envelopes and complex reporting procedures to make sure that drugs seized by police do not vanish.

The situation in Newark, N.J. is typical.

A patrolman who makes a drug seizure brings the evidence to his precinct post and fills out a form — with four carbons — reporting the details. The form goes in a special mailbox at the precinct.

The next day, a representative of the police property department picks up the evidence and examines it in the presence of the desk lieutenant to make sure it conforms to the written report. The desk lieutenant gets a carbon of the patrolman's report.

Next the confiscated narcotics are analyzed by police chemists, put in a wax-sealed package and stored in the police property room adjacent to headquarters.

The drugs are held until requested by the court for use as evidence. The police property clerk personally takes the drugs to court and returns them to the storage room where they are held until a convicted defendant has served his sentence or until a superior court judge decides they are no longer needed.

About twice a year drugs are burned in a special incinerator under the supervision of representatives of the police property department, the prosecutor's office and the judge.

"It's as fine a set-up as you can find," said Capt. John Gavarny, who is in charge of the property room. He estimated that drugs with a street value of $2.5 million were seized last year. There were no reports of any thefts from the storage places.

Police in Detroit are investigating reports of possible drug trafficking by officers. One patrolman was suspended when a small amount of

Horse Falls In Well In Hamilton County

CINCINNATI (AP) — In seven years with the Hamilton County Sheriff's department Patrolman Jim Moore can't recall another case like he responded to Sunday.

After all, how often does a horse fall in a well?

Anyway, Moore responded to the call at a stable here. A horse apparently had jumped through a concrete slab covering the well.

Tiny Radio Station Provides Training Ground For Blind

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Volunteers and hand-me-down equipment have transformed a suburban Spokane basement into a tiny radio station that serves as a unique broadcast training ground for the blind.

The basement is cold. Cardboard egg-carton dividers serve as sound-proofing. And the 10-watt transmitter covers only a 10-mile radius from an antenna mounted on a telephone pole in the back yard.

Some 50 volunteer announcers and programmers ranging from housewives to blind college students have worked at the station "at one time or another since we began," says George Cole, whose basement houses KPBX-FM.

The station took to the air last spring.

With support from Spokane's Blind Steering Committee, Cole started with a class of six blind persons learning broadcasting in the free lessons he gives to volunteers. He already has trained 10 blind persons and now is working with five blind girls, all students at Whitworth College here who probably will work at KPBX when they finish their training.

Cole and his staff recently won the Washington Governor's Award for the training program.

"The blind are great to teach because they've got such well developed memories. You tell them something once, and they retain it," Cole said.

Planning for the station — featuring a wide variety of music and commentary, much of it produced by blind volunteers — began more or less as a lark.

"It took us about a year and a half from the time we actually sat down and decided we wanted a radio station 'til we were on the air," Cole said. "With donated legal and engineering help and donated and used equipment, we put the station on the air for under $2,000."

The telephone pole on which the antenna is mounted was donated by a local construction company.

"We had to dig the hole, however," Cole recalls.

Cole says some day he hopes to increase the station's power to 250 watts, "when we get the money."

Shaffer and a Nicaraguan national guardsman were innocent bystanders to an argument among a group of Nicaraguans on Thursday. One of the Nicaraguans pulled a pistol and began firing the pistol wildly.

Shaffer was in Managua with the 5518th Engineer Company to help in earthquake relief work. He had been serving with the headquarters company of the 193rd Infantry Brigade, stationed in the Panama Canal Zone.

The engineers were building an evacuee camp in Masaya, Nicaragua, at the time of the shooting.

Police in Detroit are investigating reports of possible drug trafficking by officers. One patrolman was suspended when a small amount of marijuana was found in his possession when police raided the inventory property room at the city's 10th precinct on Dec. 8.
Narcotics contraband is stored at six locations in New York City. Police are still investigating the disappearance of 131 pounds of cocaine and 168 pounds of heroin — including 80 pounds seized in the 1962 "French Connection" case.
The New York reports prompted a thorough review of storage procedures in Los Angeles, a spokesman there said. He said there was no evidence that any narcotics had disappeared and described the city's system for keeping contraband drugs as "almost foolproof."
San Francisco police store drugs in a walk-in vault with an alarm in the Hall of Justice. Access is limited to the head criminologist and police chemists.

Chess Team Records Two Victorious Games

By RUSTY BURRIS

Teays Valley's chess team is doing much better than last year. Members have won two meets and dropped two meets.

Earlier this year Teays Valley lost to Franklin Heights and Grove City. Teays Valley hosted Hamilton Township and defeated them three games to two, and one day later the Vikings went to Circleville and defeated them, also three games to two.

Walsh Jesuit of Akron took top honors for the second year in a row. Teays Valley finished 57th.

The Vikings won matches from Clinton Junior High A, Linmoor Junior High, and Columbus Academy. They lost matches to Perry A, Perry B, Fairmont, East B, Northland C, and Upper Arlington B.

Exchange
Considered
By Council

By SUE DERRING
The Dec. 13 Student Council meeting opened with a discussion of the jewelry sales.
Following a suggestion that council members help man the supply counter in the office, plans were made for members to work their first, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth periods on a trial basis.
Two other suggestions were considered. First a council exchange with a black school which means the TV council would attend school for an entire day at a black school and the next day the council from the other school would come to Teays Valley. Steve Thompson, Jay Brinker, Glenna Ett, and Sue Derring were placed on a committee to organize the program.
The second suggestion was to set up a student court which would hear minor offenses against students. Roxanne Stir, Penny Oldaker, Brad Sherman, and Jim Pabst were placed on the committee to check into this project.

Announcements and name cards will be on display in the lobby window soon. Three companies will be represented: Jostens, Herff Jones, and Balfour. All announcements of the '73 graduation will be identical (the favorite of the class), but the name card design will be individually selected from the company chosen by the seniors.

Collegiate Caps and Gowns will be at Teays Valley the first week in February to measure the seniors for that famous "graduation uniform."

Rosario Cante' and Carlos Gir'on, the two senior exchange students from Guatemala, both felt Christmas was very different this year for them. Besides certain customs and the weather, they thought it was strange to be in school five days before Christmas. The summer vacation from school in Guatemala comes during October, November, December, and the first two weeks in January. It would seem odd to us if we got out of school on July 1 for the 4th of July celebration. It just somehow wouldn't be the same!

Technical School
Day Is Success

The Guidance Department, under the direction of Mr. Howard Weaver and Mrs. Frances Labuda, recently sponsored a Technical School Career Day. This was a time for students to explore possibilities for their future.
Students were allowed time to browse with technical school representatives. Then every student could attend three 28-minute sessions with technical school representatives of their choice.
It was noted that technical schools are becoming one of the most important areas of post-high school training. They offer an excellent way for the student to increase his earning power and chances for advancement. Yet, the typical curriculum is only two years in length. Job placement and starting salaries many times are superior to the four-year college degree.
Students were asked to complete a questionnaire as to the effectiveness of the Technical School Career Day.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Hop Back Into Her Wifely Role

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a former Playboy bunny. We've been married about a year. I realize that she met a lot of men while she worked as a cocktail waitress at the club which is where I met her, but she still gets calls asking if she'll have a drink or dinner with them.
She asked me if I "minded" if she saw some of her old favorites. I really never thought it was right for her to go, but I said I didn't mind because I didn't want her to think I was jealous.
She goes out about once a week. Am I being a chump? If I took my secretary-or anyone else out, my wife would throw a fit.
Even though I said it was okay at the beginning, I've changed my mind. So how do I tell her now that I "mind" without looking like a jealous husband?

CHANGED MY MIND
DEAR CHANGED: What's wrong with looking like a jealous husband if that's what you are — and with good reason. Tell your former Playboy bunny that her cottontail past is behind her now, and its time she hopped into the role of fulltime wife.

DEAR ABBY: In our community we have a medical group. I suppose you could call it a "Clinic." I started going to a physician there who is arrogant and generally unpleasant. I wanted to switch to another doctor but didn't know quite how to do it. My problem was solved, however, when he went on vacation and one of his colleagues treated me instead. The substitute physician was wonderful, so I keep booking him for my treatments. (I get an inoculation once a week.)

Yesterday at the clinic I ran into my first doctor, so I smiled and said, "Good morning."
He replied sharply, "Who's treating you? Whoever he is, he's doing a lousy job. You look like hell!"
Abby, I was so shocked I couldn't even respond. I just walked away.
Was this ethical? I mean, downgrading one of his own colleagues that way? How would you have handled it? Should I report him?
PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN
PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN

DEAR READER: Probably just as you did. Either that doctor needs a doctor, or he needs some lessons in tact, self-control and manners. Yes, report this incident to the administrator of the clinic.

and expensive pair of pillow cases. I had them wrapped in ribbons and bows and thought it would make a lovely gift.

After going to all this trouble a friend tells me that this is out-of-date today. Now they put out a large tray and everyone deposits money, starting at about $10. She said at the last wedding she attended, the bridal couple took in over $2,000!

Abby, I was shocked. I had heard of giving money to the family, but to every bride and groom, I can't agree. Is this the new style now?

SHOCKED IN N.Y.
DEAR SHOCKED: I imagine it has been done, but wedding gifts are still very much in style. (Cash seems crass.)

The Guidance Department, under the direction of Mr. Howard Weaver and Mrs. Frances Labuda, recently sponsored a Technical School Career Day. This was a time for students to explore possibilities for their future.
Students were allowed time to browse with technical school representatives. Then every student could attend three 28-minute sessions with technical school representatives of their choice.
It was noted that technical schools are becoming one of the most important areas of post-high school training. They offer an excellent way for the student to increase his earning power and chances for advancement. Yet, the typical curriculum is only two years in length. Job placement and starting salaries many times are superior to the four-year college degree.
Students were asked to complete a questionnaire as to the effectiveness of the Technical School Career Day.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Hop Back Into Her Wifely Role

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a former Playboy bunny. We've been married about a year. I realize that she met a lot of men while she worked as a cocktail waitress at the club which is where I met her, but she still gets calls asking if she'll have a drink or dinner with them.
She asked me if I "minded" if she saw some of her old favorites. I really never thought it was right for her to go, but I said I didn't mind because I didn't want her to think I was jealous.
She goes out about once a week. Am I being a chump? If I took my secretary or anyone else out, my wife would throw a fit.
Even though I said it was okay at the beginning, I've changed my mind. So how do I tell her now that I "mind" without looking like a jealous husband?

CHANGED MY MIND
DEAR CHANGED: What's wrong with looking like a jealous husband if that's what you are — and with good reason. Tell your former Playboy bunny that her cottontail past is behind her now, and its time she hopped into the role of fulltime wife.

DEAR ABBY: In our community we have a medical group. I suppose you could call it a "Clinic." I started going to a physician there who is arrogant and generally unpleasant. I wanted to switch to another doctor but didn't know quite how to do it. My problem was solved, however, when he went on vacation and one of his colleagues treated me instead. The substitute physician was wonderful, so I keep booking him for my treatments. (I get an inoculation once a week.)

Yesterday at the clinic I ran into my first doctor, so I smiled and said, "Good morning."

He replied sharply, "Who's treating you? Whoever he is, he's doing a lousy job. You look like hell!"

Abby, I was so shocked I couldn't even respond. I just walked away.

Was this ethical? I mean, downgrading one of his own colleagues that way? How would you have handled it? Should I report him?

PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN

DEAR READER: Probably just as you did. Either that doctor needs a doctor, or he needs some lessons in tact, self-control and manners. Yes, report this incident to the administrator of the clinic.

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly shut-in and have not attended a wedding in 16 years. I sent one couple a beautiful and expensive pair of pillow cases. I had them wrapped in ribbons and bows and thought it would make a lovely gift.

After going to all this trouble a friend tells me that this is out-of-date today. Now they put out a large tray and everyone deposits money, starting at about $10. She said at the last wedding she attended, the bridal couple took in over $2,000!

Abby, I was shocked. I had heard of giving money to the family, but to every bride and groom, I can't agree. Is this the new style now?

SHOCKED IN N.Y.
DEAR SHOCKED: I imagine it has been done, but wedding gifts are still very much in style. (Cash seems crass.)

Dolphins Smash Redskins In Super Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Welcome to the Super Bowl Fish Fry," said the bedsheets banner in the massive Memorial Coliseum. However, it was the Washington Redskins who got neatly sauted by pro football's unbeatable underdogs, the Miami Dolphins.

"Washington's Championship Menu: Filet of Dolphin," said another homemade paean to Coach George Allen's OverThe-Hill Gang. However, it was Miami quarterback Bob Griese who feasted on the tasty gaps in the Redskins' defense.

It was bullish Larry Csonka who gobbled up the Coliseum turf. It was Manny Fernandez who chewed up the Washington ground game. It was Jake Scott who speared the Redskin aerial attack like a hungry interloper amid trays of hors d'oeuvres.

And when the banquet was over on Sunday, the Miami Dolphins, with a victory in Super Bowl VII far more convincing than the final 14-7 score, had become the National Football League's first team to munch their way through an entire season without so much as a tie to blemish their record.

With the American Conference's top offense and equally supreme defense, they had barreled through the year with a 14-0 record. Then, in a pair of come-from-behind efforts, they'd nudged past Cleveland 20-14 and Pittsburgh 21-17 for the AFC title.

And finally, as underdogs of anywhere from one to three points, they marched into Super Bowl VII, silently determined to shove into the background their 24-3 humiliation at the hands of the Dallas Cowboys in the championship game of a year ago.

They didn't just push it into the background. They obliterated it.

"I don't know what I'm gonna tell these guys in training camp," Coach Don Shula said in the jubilant Miami locker room, "except maybe, 'we gotta win the College All-Star Game.'"

"There was always the empty feeling of not having accomplished the ultimate," said Shula, who twice had taken teams into the Super Bowl and twice had come away a loser. "This is the ultimate."

The Dolphins had come within one busted field goal attempt in the waning minutes of becoming the first shutout victor in the Super Bowl.

And, with their 17-0 record, they moved within one victory of the Chicago Bears' twice-achieved record for the NFL's longest winning streak.

The scoring statistics are simple. A 28-yard Griese-to-Howard Twilley touchdown pass with one second to go in the first quarter and a one-yard Jim Kiick plunge with 18 to go in the second. But that hardly tells much of a story.

Washington's scoring is a bit more complicated—and it tells an important story. It was the defense, helped by a frenzy of confusion, that got the points. Garo Yepremian's 42-yard field goal attempt was blocked by Bill Brundige and, when the Cypriot place-kicker recovered the ball and tried to pass it, he lost the handle.

Cornerback Mike Bass snatched it in mid-air and galloped 49 yards down the left sideline for the touchdown which, with 2:07 to play, averted the ultimate ignominy for Washington.

Suddenly, the record championship crowd of 90,182 fans—and the estimated 75 million television viewers, including those in unblack-out Los Angeles—had themselves a close game. They waited for the onside kick. But it never came.

"There was too much time left," Allen said. "You just try to kick deep, hold them and maybe block the punt." But they didn't hold them until barely a minute remained. They didn't block the punt, a 40-yarder by Larry Seiple that dumped the Redskins back on their own 30-yard line.

Then, after three incomplete passes by Billy Kilmer and a final crushing quarterback sack that left him staring helplessly at the smog-laden California sky, the Dolphins, for their 60 minutes of work, were each $15,000 richer—closer to $25,000 if you include the AFC playoff shares.

The National Conference champion Redskins each receive about $17,500 including the $7,500 Super Bowl loser's check.

Griese, who played it protectively cozy in the second half, finishing the game with eight completions on 11 passes for 88 yards, was dynamite in the first half of his first start since the fifth game of the season, when leg and ankle injuries brought Earl Morrall in as the signal-caller.

In the first two periods he went 6-for-6 for 75 yards. And he would have been 8-for-8 for 142 yards had not a 20-yarder to Marv Fleming and a 47-yard scoring bomb to Paul Warfield been wiped out by penalties.

There was still plenty of time as the second half began and Kilmer, who finished with completions on half of his 28 passes for 104 yards, didn't seem about to waste it.

Four successive completions—11 yards to Jerry Smith, 15 to Charley Taylor, then 15 and seven to Roy Jefferson, and the 'Skins were on the Miami 17.

But as suddenly as Kilmer had found his arm, he lost it—and he lost eight yards when Fernandez blew in to dump him. So it was up to Curt Knight to put Washington on the scoreboard.

He didn't. The place-kicker who had booted seven straight field goals in the NFC Playoffs against Green Bay and Dallas missed from 32 yards out.

"I simply did not throw that well today," said Kilmer, looking forward glumly to his role next Sunday in Dallas as quarterback of the NFC All-Star team in the Pro Bowl. "I think if I had thrown well we would have beaten them ... that game next week doesn't mean a thing any more. Not without this one."

"We figured we had to run against Miami but their overall defense is so good that we couldn't get anything started," Larry Brown, who had led NFC rushers with 1,216 yards, managed 72 of Washington's 141 ground yards against the Dolphins, and he needed 22 carries to do it.

Csonka, meanwhile, brushed aside Redskin tacklers all day, piling up 112 yards. Forty-nine of them came in one explosion charge through half the Redskins on the field with five minutes to go in the third quarter.

Allen said there were plenty of things to be upset about. One of them was an apparent fumbled snap by Miami center Howard Kindig in the opening minutes, one which Redskins' linebacker Harold McLinton slapped loose, then recovered on the Dolphins' 25-yard line.

The officials nailed McLinton for illegal procedure. It gave Miami a second chance to punt and this one was good, a 50-yard boomer by Seiple.

And there was a fumbled punt by Scott later in the first period. The Redskins might have had the ball on the Dolphins' 37—but Dick Anderson recovered for Miami.

"That was the biggest play of the first half," Allen said. "If we'd gotten that ball—and I feel we would have scored—we could have gone ahead and it would have been a different ball game."

One thing was different. President Nixon, who had avidly supported Miami a year ago in its Super Bowl loss, switched his allegiance this year to the Redskins and saw his heroes go down to defeat from the Florida White House in Key Biscayne.

Vikings Avenge Early Loss To Braves With 88-78 Win

Teays Valley avenged an early season loss to Logan Elm by defeating the Braves 88-78 Saturday in 2,000-seat Spangler Memorial Gym before a near capacity crowd.

The Braves won the first meeting between the two teams this season 88-80. Saturday's game was close all the way, and it wasn't until the final three minutes that Teays Valley was able to put the victory away.

The score was 18-16 at the end of the first period, with the Vikings holding the advantage. At halftime it was 42-38 and the Vikings were still on top.

The Braves came back after the intermission and by the end of the third period, managed to tie the score at 61-61. The score was tied six times in the first five minutes of the fourth quarter.

With 3:05 to go in the game, Jim Logsdon canned a foul shot that put Teays Valley ahead 74-73 and they never trailed again. Thirty seconds later Logsdon rebounded a missed shot and put it through the hoop. With a minute 56 seconds to go, the big Viking center did it again to give TV a 78-73 lead. Then eight of the last ten points for Teays Valley came at the charity stripe as the Braves, in their effort to get the ball, committed five personals in less than two minutes.

Logsdon was the big gun in a balanced Teays Valley scoring attack. The 6-foot-4 pivot man made 10 of 15 shots from the field and four of 11 chances at the charity line for 24 points. He was the game's leading rebounder, pulling down a total of 19 missed shots, eight off the offensive boards and 11 off the defensive boards.

Jay Brinker put 20 points through the hoops for the Vikings, connecting on eight of 11 shots from the field and four of four at the line, the best overall shooting performance on the floor Saturday.

Jeff Anderson was in double figures with 15 points as were Craig Pontious with 14 and Jerry Sabine with 10. Rounding out the scoring for the winners were Collins with four and Lambert with one.

For Logan Elm Tim Justice and Tom Sykes scored 24 points each. Justice made 10 of 20 field goal tries and four of six charity tosses. He missed his first shot at the foul line Saturday, ending his string of consecutive free throws at 22.

Sykes zipped 10 of 23 shots from the field through the nets and made four of eight at the foul line. He holds the LE record of 38 consecutive foul shots. They were the only Braves to hit in double figures.

Steve Sargent and Rick Jones scored eight each, Stew Jones, Marty Eveland and Mike Holbrook four each and Doug Marshall two.

Sykes was the leading rebounder for

Logan Elm, pulling down 14 missed shots. Stew Jones grabbed seven off the boards before fouling out midway through the third period.

The game was fairly evenly matched in all but the shooting department. The Braves had 11 turnovers and Teays Valley 10. The Vikings pulled down 36 rebounds and Logan Elm 35.

Teays Valley took 73 shots from the field and made 36, a 49.3 per cent shooting average. Logan Elm took 76 shots and made 33, a 43.4 per cent average. However, the Vikings missed a chance to put the game out of reach early by making only 16 of 30 shots at the foul line, a 53 per cent average. The Braves fared better at the stripe, making 12 of 18, a 67 per cent average.

Logan Elm now has a 10-2 record on the season while Teays Valley is 8-4. The next game for the Braves is Friday against visiting Westfall in Scioto Valley Conference action. Teays Valley hosts Hamilton Twp. Friday in a Metropolitan League game. The two teams are leading their respective athletic circuits.

The little Vikings maintained their perfect win skein, edging Logan Elm, 44-42 in the preliminary bout. The Little Braves have now lost three games while winning nine.

"There was too much time left," Allen said. "You just try to kick deep, hold them and maybe block the punt." But they didn't hold them until barely a minute remained. They didn't block the punt, a 40-yarder by Larry Seiple that dumped the Redskins back on their own 30-yard line.

Then, after three incomplete passes by Billy Kilmer and a final crushing quarterback sack that left him staring helplessly at the smog-laden California sky, the Dolphins, for their 60 minutes of work, were each $15,000 richer—closer to $25,000 if you include the AFC playoff shares.

The National Conference champion Redskins each receive about $17,500 including the $7,500 Super Bowl loser's check.

Griese, who played it protectively cozy in the second half, finishing the game with eight completions on 11 passes for 88 yards, was dynamite in the first half of his first start since the fifth game of the season, when leg and ankle injuries brought Earl Morrall in as the signal-caller.

In the first two periods he went 6-for-6 for 75 yards. And he would have been 8-for-8 for 142 yards had not a 20-yarder to Marv Fleming and a 47-yard scoring bomb to Paul Warfield been wiped out by penalties.

There was still plenty of time as the second half began and Kilmer, who finished with completions on half of his 28 passes for 104 yards, didn't seem about to waste it.

Four successive completions—11 yards to Jerry Smith, 15 to Charley Taylor, then 15 and seven to Roy Jefferson, and the 'Skins were on the Miami 17.

But as suddenly as Kilmer had found his arm, he lost it—and he lost eight yards when Fernandez blew in to dump him. So it was up to Curt Knight to put Washington on the scoreboard.

He didn't. The place-kicker who had booted seven straight field goals in the NFC Playoffs against Green Bay and Dallas missed from 32 yards out.

"I simply did not throw that well today," said Kilmer, looking forward glumly to his role next Sunday in Dallas as quarterback of the NFC All-Star team in the Pro Bowl. "I think if I had thrown well we would have beaten them ... that game next week doesn't mean a thing any more. Not without this one."

"We figured we had to run against Miami but their overall defense is so good that we couldn't get anything started," Larry Brown, who had led NFC rushers with 1,216 yards, managed 72 of Washington's 141 ground yards against the Dolphins, and he needed 22 carries to do it.

Csonka, meanwhile, brushed aside Redskin tacklers all day, piling up 112 yards. Forty-nine of them came in one explosion charge through half the Redskins on the field with five minutes to go in the third quarter.

Allen said there were plenty of things to be upset about. One of them was an apparent fumbled snap by Miami center Howard Kindig in the opening minutes, one which Redskins' linebacker Harold McLinton slapped loose, then recovered on the Dolphins' 25-yard line.

The officials nailed McLinton for illegal procedure. It gave Miami a second chance to punt and this one was good, a 50-yard boomer by Seiple.

And there was a fumbled punt by Scott later in the first period. The Redskins might have had the ball on the Dolphins' 37—but Dick Anderson recovered for Miami.

"That was the biggest play of the first half," Allen said. "If we'd gotten that ball—and I feel we would have scored—we could have gone ahead and it would have been a different ball game."

One thing was different. President Nixon, who had avidly supported Miami a year ago in its Super Bowl loss, switched his allegiance this year to the Redskins and saw his heroes go down to defeat from the Florida White House in Key Biscayne.

Vikings Avenge Early Loss To Braves With 88-78 Win

Teays Valley avenged an early season loss to Logan Elm by defeating the Braves 88-78 Saturday in 2,000-seat Spangler Memorial Gym before a near capacity crowd.

The Braves won the first meeting between the two teams this season 88-80. Saturday's game was close all the way, and it wasn't until the final three minutes that Teays Valley was able to put the victory away.

The score was 18-16 at the end of the first period, with the Vikings holding the advantage. At halftime it was 42-38 and the Vikings were still on top.

The Braves came back after the intermission and by the end of the third period, managed to tie the score at 61-61. The score was tied six times in the first five minutes of the fourth quarter.

With 3:05 to go in the game, Jim Logsdon canned a foul shot that put Teays Valley ahead 74-73 and they never trailed again. Thirty seconds later Logsdon rebounded a missed shot and put it through the hoop. With a minute 56 seconds to go, the big Viking center did it again to give TV a 78-73 lead. Then eight of the last ten points for Teays Valley came at the charity stripe as the Braves, in their effort to get the ball, committed five personals in less than two minutes.

Logsdon was the big gun in a balanced Teays Valley scoring attack. The 6-foot-4 pivot man made 10 of 15 shots from the field and four of 11 chances at the charity line for 24 points. He was the game's leading rebounder, pulling down a total of 19 missed shots, eight off the offensive boards and 11 off the defensive boards.

Jay Brinker put 20 points through the hoops for the Vikings, connecting on eight of 11 shots from the field and four of four at the line, the best overall shooting performance on the floor Saturday.

Jeff Anderson was in double figures with 15 points as were Craig Pontious with 14 and Jerry Sabine with 10. Rounding out the scoring for the winners were Collins with four and Lambert with one.

For Logan Elm Tim Justice and Tom Sykes scored 24 points each. Justice made 10 of 20 field goal tries and four of six charity tosses. He missed his first shot at the foul line Saturday, ending his string of consecutive free throws at 22.

Sykes zipped 10 of 23 shots from the field through the nets and made four of eight at the foul line. He holds the LE record of 38 consecutive foul shots. They were the only Braves to hit in double figures.

Steve Sargent and Rick Jones scored eight each, Stew Jones, Marty Eveland and Mike Holbrook four each and Doug Marshall two.

Sykes was the leading rebounder for

Logan Elm, pulling down 14 missed shots. Stew Jones grabbed seven off the boards before fouling out midway through the third period.

The game was fairly evenly matched in all but the shooting department. The Braves had 11 turnovers and Teays Valley 10. The Vikings pulled down 36 rebounds and Logan Elm 35.

Teays Valley took 73 shots from the field and made 36, a 49.3 per cent shooting average. Logan Elm took 76 shots and made 33, a 43.4 per cent average. However, the Vikings missed a chance to put the game out of reach early by making only 16 of 30 shots at the foul line, a 53 per cent average. The Braves fared better at the stripe, making 12 of 18, a 67 per cent average.

Logan Elm now has a 10-2 record on the season while Teays Valley is 8-4. The next game for the Braves is Friday against visiting Westfall in Scioto Valley Conference action. Teays Valley hosts Hamilton Twp. Friday in a Metropolitan League game. The two teams are leading their respective athletic circuits.

The little Vikings maintained their perfect win skein, edging Logan Elm, 44-42 in the preliminary bout. The Little Braves have now lost three games while winning nine.

Team Ousted For Slouching At Anthem

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The scene had overtones of the 1972 Olympic Games at Munich when U.S. track medal winners Vince Matthews and Wayne Collett did not stand at attention during the playing of the National Anthem at the medals ceremony.

This time, it was not international competition, but the Knights of Columbus Indoor Meet at the Nassau Coliseum. The athletes were not Olympians, but from Eastern Michigan, and the incident did not occur at an awards ceremony, but during the playing of the Anthem, prior to the mile race—one of the late events on Saturday night's program.

The Eastern Michigan mile relay team, scheduled to run in the final event, was gathered in the infield of the track as The Star Spangled Banner was being sung. Instead of standing, some members of the group which included three blacks—Carlos Woods, Willie Sims and Stan Vinson—and one white—Mark Timmons—remained slouched on the floor, disdaining the flag.

"I don't know what they were doing, but they weren't protesting," insisted Eastern Michigan Coach Bob Parks.

The crowd of 8,551 did not agree with Parks' interpretation, nor with the athletes' stand—or lack of it—and booed them lustily.

Even some athletes who had competed earlier and had taken seats in the stands, disagreed with the apparent protest by the Eastern Michigan runners.

"Get those Commies out of here," shouted a group of athletes.

The Games Committee did not take kindly to the action by the Eastern Michigan athletes, and disqualified them from the relay. One meet official said that the timers and judges had agreed to walk off the track if the Eastern Michigan team was permitted to compete.

Anthony Davis Hurt

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Anthony Davis, the sophomore sensation of Southern California's national college football champions, "is getting along fine" recovering from an automobile accident that partly severed his left achilles tendon, a physician says.

Davis' sports car hit a light pole Saturday morning after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, the California Highway Patrol said.

Boston Bruins Bash Buffalo Sabres, 6-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Phil Esposito is not particular about how many players there are on the ice when he goes to work. Just give him a stick, a National Hockey League puck and a goalie and he does his thing.

Esposito exploded for four goals Sunday night—two of them with Boston shorthanded, another on a power play, and the other with both teams at equal strength—as the Bruins battered the Buffalo Sabres 6-0.

In other NHL action Sunday, New

York downed Philadelphia 5-2, Montreal shut out Vancouver 3-0, St. Louis nipped the New York Islanders 2-1, Detroit shaded Pittsburgh 3-2, Atlanta tripped Los Angeles 4-1 and California and Chicago battled to a 6-6 tie.

Art Rooney gave the National Football League $2,500 when he organized the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1929.

TRAVEL IN SPACE.

INTRODUCING THE 1973 VOLKSWAGEN WAGONS.

Most people think of Volkswagens as tiny, bug-like cars.

Most people couldn't be more wrong. Take our Station Wagon. (And 9 people could.)

It's got almost twice as much space as most wagons. 176 cubic feet to be exact.

Too big? The VW 412 wagon seats 4 people plus its 2 trunks add up to 38.1 cubic feet of space. And there's an additional 24 cu. ft. when the back seats are down.

Still too big? Try our Squareback. It has about 50% more carrying space than the largest sedan.

And you get an extra 17.7 cubic feet by lowering the back seats.

So if you're looking for roominess, look into a Volkswagen.

You won't find a larger selection of space vehicles.

Or more down-to-earth prices.

Few things in life work as well as a Volkswagen.

Team Ousted For Slouching At Anthem

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The scene had overtones of the 1972 Olympic Games at Munich when U.S. track medal winners Vince Matthews and Wayne Collett did not stand at attention during the playing of the National Anthem at the medals ceremony.

This time, it was not international competition, but the Knights of Columbus Indoor Meet at the Nassau Coliseum. The athletes were not Olympians, but from Eastern Michigan, and the incident did not occur at an awards ceremony, but during the playing of the Anthem, prior to the mile race—one of the late events on Saturday night's program.

The Eastern Michigan mile relay team, scheduled to run in the final event, was gathered in the infield of the track as The Star Spangled Banner was being sung. Instead of standing, some members of the group which included three blacks—Carlos Woods, Willie Sims and Stan Vinson—and one white—Mark Timmons—remained slouched on the floor, disdaining the flag.

"I don't know what they were doing, but they weren't protesting," insisted Eastern Michigan Coach Bob Parks.

The crowd of 8,551 did not agree with Parks' interpretation, nor with the athletes' stand—or lack of it—and booed them lustily.

Even some athletes who had competed earlier and had taken seats in the stands, disagreed with the apparent protest by the Eastern Michigan runners.

"Get those Commies out of here," shouted a group of athletes.

The Games Committee did not take kindly to the action by the Eastern Michigan athletes, and disqualified them from the relay. One meet official said that the timers and judges had agreed to walk of the track if the Eastern Michigan team was permitted to compete.

Anthony Davis Hurt

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Anthony Davis, the sophomore sensation of Southern California's national college football champions, "is getting along fine" recovering from an automobile accident that partly severed his left achilles tendon, a physician says.

Davis' sports car hit a light pole Saturday morning after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, the California Highway Patrol said.

Boston Bruins Bash Buffalo Sabres, 6-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Phil Esposito is not particular about how many players there are on the ice when he goes to work. Just give him a stick, a National Hockey League puck and a goalie and he does his thing.

Esposito exploded for four goals Sunday night—two of them with Boston shorthanded, another on a power play, and the other with both teams at equal strength—as the Bruins battered the Buffalo Sabres 6-0.

In other NHL action Sunday, New

York downed Philadelphia 5-2, Montreal shut out Vancouver 3-0, St. Louis nipped the New York Islanders 2-1, Detroit shaded Pittsburgh 3-2, Atlanta tripped Los Angeles 4-1 and California and Chicago battled to a 6-6 tie.

Art Rooney gave the National Football League $2,500 when he organized the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1929.

TRAVEL IN SPACE.

INTRODUCING THE 1973 VOLKSWAGEN WAGONS.

Most people think of Volkswagens as tiny, bug-like cars. Most people couldn't be more wrong. Take our Station Wagon. (And 9 people could.)

It's got almost twice as much space as most wagons. 176 cubic feet to be exact.

Too big? The VW 412 wagon seats 4 people plus its 2 trunks add up to 38.1 cubic feet of space. And there's an additional 24 cu. ft. when the back seats are down.

Still too big? Try our Squareback.

It has about 50% more carrying space than the largest sedan.

And you get an extra 17.7 cubic feet by lowering the back seats.

So if you're looking for roominess, look into a Volkswagen.

You won't find a larger selection of space vehicles.

Or more down-to-earth prices.

Few things in life work as well as a Volkswagen.

CARROLL RICHTER'S horoscope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to look closely into the mental phases of whatever is of importance to you, then to arrange a plan that can bring your new course of blueprints to the attention of allies who can make your plan successful. Contact those able to further your designs.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan to see those people who can help you make your routine work more successful. Then get important shopping done. Experts can give you other fine ideas, also. Avoid one who bickers too much.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Attend to the property and financial side of your life and improve things cleverly, wisely. Look to business expert who has been helpful in the past for good ideas. Show mate more affection in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Concentrate on personal aims more now as there is every chance of attaining them quickly. A little time spent improving charm does the trick. Don't copy others, but be yourself.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There are private matters that need to be handled well before you can put that plan to work that will help you zoom ahead in your career. Try to be more helpful to the one you love. Avoid temper tantrums.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to make headway because you are feeling and looking dynamic, and others will respond to you. The evening is especially fine for the social. Avoid extravagance that you will surely regret later.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An early start is wise since you can accomplish much in the world of activity, business, etc., away from home. Don't neglect civic work, either. State your aims to bigwigs and get their aid.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Become more alert to the modern way of life and current technology so that you will be more successful in life. Find the right outlets for you. Make the allies who can best work with you. Keep active; be happy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy early ridding yourself of responsibilities that are boring but necessary to handle just the same. A more affectionate attitude toward mate is wise and right. Stop playing a game.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Sit down with partners and reach a better understanding, then you can all be more successful and happy. Avoid one who opposes you and keep out of trouble. Await a better day to bring this person around, make a friend of him or her.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) With all that work ahead of you, don't try to dream or squirm your way out of it but tackle it with vim and get it behind you efficiently. Take it easy tonight and rebuild your lagging energies. Get to bed early, too.

NEW YORK (AP) — A beautifully photographed special about the endangered bighorn sheep of North America starts appearing this week on various television stations in major U.S. cities.

It's called "Bighorn," lasts an hour, is part of General Electric's Monogram series and features singer-composer John Denver, who has six albums and several hit records to his credit.

The sights alone might make you determined to do battle with the army of yahoos who mess up the wilderness each year with pop-top cans, transistor radios and all the other bilge of civilization.

For that reason, it might be safe to watch "Bighorn" for 15 minutes to get the drift of things, then turn off the sound and let the beauty of the animals and the Canadian Rockies sink in.

Denver is a guy who sings at the drop of a guitar pick, which is okay in coffee houses and recording studios. He also is a dedicated environmentalist, which is better.

But when he takes his guitar into the wilderness as part of a study of the proud bighorn sheep, he winds up making the sheep share the bill with his new album, "Rocky Mountain High."

A saving factor in the show is his guide, a former Vancouver policeman named Tommy Tompkins, who turned his back on big city life a number of years ago to take up life in the wilds.

Tompkins comes across as a quiet, knowledgeable man, the sort of bush guide who speaks low so as not to disturb the animals — or, for that matter, the beauty of the Rockies.

I wish he had done the entire show. He might have limited the musical accompaniment to the opening and closing parts and let us hear the sound of the Rockies the rest of the time.

There are parts when the music goes off and we hear the awe-inspiring sound of two bighorn sheep banging heads during the mating season. But moments like these are all too few.

The program covers all four seasons and primarily was filmed in Canada's Jasper National Park and in Wyoming. It's a good look, both at an endangered species and at the larger question of preserving one of North America's last frontiers.

But Denver, who gets off to a good start as an enthusiastic observer-narrator on the trip through the high country, loses me at about the point he and Tompkins arrive in grizzly bear territory.

He informs all that he hopes to see a grizzly bear. Then he says this has inspired him to compose a song, right on the spot, called "How do you Say Hello to a Grizzly Bear?"

I wish the bears had been inspired to write a song called "How Do You Say Hello to a Strumming Explorer," but that only happens in Walt Disney movies.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to look closely into the mental phases of whatever is of importance to you, then to arrange a plan that can bring your new course of blueprints to the attention of allies who can make your plan successful. Contact those able to further your designs.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan to see those people who can help you make your routine work more successful. Then get important shopping done. Experts can give you other fine ideas, also. Avoid one who bickers too much.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Attend to the property and financial side of your life and improve things cleverly, wisely. Look to business expert who has been helpful in the past for good ideas. Show more affection in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Concentrate on personal aims more now as there is every chance of attaining them quickly. A little time spent improving charm does the trick. Don't copy others, but be yourself.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There are private matters that need to be handled well before you can put that plan to work that will help you zoom ahead in your career. Try to be more helpful to the one you love. Avoid temper tantrums.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to make headway because you are feeling and looking dynamic, and others will respond to you. The evening is especially fine for the social. Avoid extravagance that you will surely regret later.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An early start is wise since you can accomplish much in the world of activity, business, etc., away from home. Don't neglect civic work, either. State your aims to bigwigs and get their aid.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Become more alert to the modern way of life and current technology so that you will be more successful in life. Find the right outlets for you. Make the allies who can best work with you. Keep active; be happy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy early ridding yourself of responsibilities that are boring but necessary to handle just the same. A more affectionate attitude toward mate is wise and right. Stop playing a game.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Sit down with partners and reach a better understanding, then you can all be more successful and happy. Avoid one who opposes you and keep out of trouble. Await a better day to bring this person around, make a friend of him or her.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) With all that work ahead of you, don't try to dream or squirm your way out of it but tackle it with vim and get it behind you efficiently. Take it easy tonight and rebuild your lagging energies. Get to bed early, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) While amusement is on your mind, make sure you first get important work done, then you will enjoy recreation without worry. Get into the creative work that you enjoy and which will bring advancement. Avoid tedious, too.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do whatever will improve conditions at home and make life more comfortable, delightful, harmonious there. Petty arguments should be avoided. Show you are a leader and have right ideas.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people who will jump from one thing to another and never complete anything, if you don't teach early to finish whatever is started and not to go into anything unless sure of being able to handle it, otherwise your son or daughter will become the proverbial rolling stone that does not gather any moss. Observances Mark Birthday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Observances today marking the birthday of the late Martin Luther King Jr. include a variety of memorial services and public school closings in a number of cities around the country.

Both city schools and city hall offices were closed today in Atlanta, Ga., where Mayor Sam Massell declared the day a legal holiday.

School closings also were scheduled in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, Seattle, Kansas City, Buffalo, N.Y., Newark, N.J., Oakland, Calif., Hartford, Conn., and a number of smaller cities.

King, who would have been 44 today, was assassinated in April 1968 in Memphis, Tenn. Today in Atlanta his widow, Coretta Scott King, will place a wreath on his crypt.

Then she will attend memorial services at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, which King headed. Speakers include King's father, Martin Luther King Sr., and his son, Martin Luther King III.

Today's observances, Mrs. King said, were "to involve people meaningfully in the celebration of my husband's life and the perpetuation of his work and teachings."

In New York, Mayor John V. Lindsay was to attend a memorial breakfast sponsored by various business leaders and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which King founded.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, a former aide of King and now head of Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity) was to address a meeting of the all-black Baptist Ministers Conference of Greater New York.

Widespread business closing were expected in the Harlem section of New York.

City offices in Newark were closed with the schools. Memorial events include a Youth Day sponsored by Kawaia Temple, the city's most active black nationalist organization.

New Jersey Gov. William T. Cahill was to sign a statewide memorial proclamation today.

Gov. Thomas J. Meskill of Connecticut declared the day as Martin Luther King Day but not a legal holiday. Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter signed a proclamation last Saturday honoring King's birthday.

Public schools in Pittsburgh were not closed, but black students were excused to attend memorial services. The University of Pittsburgh cancelled classes.

Two Hurt In County Accidents

A 15-year-old Columbus girl was injured 2:15 p.m. Saturday when she fell from the trunk lid of a moving car and Donald L. Riffle, 34, Route 3, suffered minor injuries when the Bronco he was driving rolled over on private land 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover, who investigated both of the mishaps, said Scioto Squad personnel rushed Colleen Marie Creedon, 15, Columbus, to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, after she fell from the car.

The car was driven by Deanna Lynn Jackson, 17, Orient, who stated that she was driving from the Orient postoffice on Stahl Rd. when Miss Creedon fell from the trunk lid and hit her head on the pavement.

Riffle told Deputy Hoover he was driving on the Lloyd Minor farm when the front wheel of his vehicle fell into a hole. The Bronco rolled to its top. He was treated for a lacerated left ear.

NOT HURT — Elizabeth A. Schumm, 17, 360 E. Union St., was apparently not seriously hurt when she drove 106 feet off the left side of Northridge Road and hit a power pole and tree in the yard of Howard Richmond, 952 Circle Drive 1:33 p.m. Sunday. Mader's Ambulance rushed her to Berger Hospital, but she was treated and released. Ptl. Jim Francis investigating officer, said she complained of shoulder injuries. The car sustained extensive front end damage.

Two Hurt In County Accidents

A 15-year-old Columbus girl was injured 2:15 p.m. Saturday when she fell from the trunk lid of a moving car and Donald L. Riffle, 34, Route 3, suffered minor injuries when the Bronco he was driving rolled over on private land 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover, who investigated both of the mishaps, said Scioto Squad personnel rushed Colleen Marie Creedon, 15, Columbus, to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, after she fell from the car.

The car was driven by Deanna Lynn Jackson, 17, Orient, who stated that she was driving from the Orient postoffice on Stahl Rd. when Miss Creedon fell from the trunk lid and hit her head on the pavement.

Riffle told Deputy Hoover he was driving on the Lloyd Minor farm when the front wheel of his vehicle fell into a hole. The Bronco rolled to its top. He was treated for a lacerated left ear.

Ages Of Marriage: Lordstown Strike Again Feared

Four hundred marriages are on record at the Pickaway County Probate Court for the year 1972.

Oldest male to be seeking a bride was 84 years of age and the youngest was 16. At 74 years young, one woman took the title of oldest female applying for a license to wed. Youngest female was only 15.

The number of marriage applications shows an increase over 1971, when 361 were granted.

LORDSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Fisher Body Fabricating division of the General Motors Corp. plant has been hit with a five-day strike notice by Local 1714 of the United Auto Workers.

Shop chairman Tom Weekly said several days of negotiation failed to resolve grievances the 2,500 workers have over work standards.

A shutdown of the fabricating plant would close the Vega and van assembly plants operated by the General Motors Assembly division and idle 8,500 workers of UAW Local 1112.

Observances Mark Birthday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Observances today marking the birthday of the late Martin Luther King Jr. include a variety of memorial services and public school closings in a number of cities around the country.

Both city schools and city hall offices were closed today in Atlanta, Ga., where Mayor Sam Massell declared the day a legal holiday.

School closings also were scheduled in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, Seattle, Kansas City, Buffalo, N.Y., Newark, N.J., Oakland, Calif., Hartford, Conn., and a number of smaller cities.

King, who would have been 44 today, was assassinated in April 1968 in Memphis, Tenn. Today in Atlanta his widow, Coretta Scott King, will place a wreath on his crypt.

Then she will attend memorial services at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, which King headed. Speakers include King's father, Martin Luther King Sr., and his son, Martin Luther King III.

Today's observances, Mrs. King said, were "to involve people meaningfully in the celebration of my husband's life and the perpetuation of his work and teachings."

In New York, Mayor John V. Lindsay was to attend a memorial breakfast sponsored by various business leaders and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which King founded.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, a former aide of King and now head of Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity) was to address a meeting of the all-black Baptist Ministers Conference of Greater New York.

Widespread business closing were expected in the Harlem section of New York.

City offices in Newark were closed with the schools. Memorial events include a Youth Day sponsored by Kawaia Temple, the city's most active black nationalist organization.

New Jersey Gov. William T. Cahill was to sign a statewide memorial proclamation today.

Gov. Thomas J. Meskill of Connecticut declared the day as Martin Luther King Day but not a legal holiday. Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter signed a proclamation last Saturday honoring King's birthday.

Public schools in Pittsburgh were not closed, but black students were excused to attend memorial services. The University of Pittsburgh cancelled classes.

At the predominantly black Manchester Elementary School in Pittsburgh's North Side, the ringing of bells that usually mark the beginning and end of class periods was to be replaced by students reading from King's works.

SNOW — County residents woke up to a 2½ inch blanket of snow Monday. Larry Cupp clears a path on a sidewalk on N. Court St. He hasn't had to do the job too frequently this winter. Temperatures are supposed to raise to the mid 40s today and to near 50 tomorrow. Apparently many county residents couldn't believe the snow either, as Sheriff's deputies handled 10 minor accidents Monday morning.

St. Philip's Installs Officers

New officers of The Women and Youth Group of St. Philip's Episcopal Church were installed, and new American and Episcopal Church flags were blessed at the Family Service Sunday morning.

Serving the Women this year are: Marie Pierce, president; Gwynne Priest, vice president; Margaret Mattinson, secretary and Marcia Robertson, treasurer.

Youth Group officers are: Evelyn Howard, president; Debra Leckrone, secretary; Linda Pike, treasurer and Bill Leist, junior high representative.

Titles Listed

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — "Women's lib will not really be here to stay until the post office finds room for Ms on its telephone accounts," said a columnist in The Star. The phone bills now are addressed with the all-purpose: "The Honorable-Prof.-Dr.-Rev.-Mr.-Mrs.-Miss."

Everything Kroger sells is

GUARANTEED UNCONDITIONALLY

When B.H. "Barney" Kroger opened his first grocery store nearly 90 years ago, he guaranteed the quality of everything he sold in his store. He knew that this was the best way he could win satisfied customers who would help his business grow.

In today's more complex marketplace, Kroger believes that our "replacement or money-back guarantee of total satisfaction" on everything we sell is more essential than ever.

We do our best to see that everything we sell is to your liking. But should you have a complaint about any product, we want you to let us know. You must be completely satisfied or Kroger will replace the product or refund your money.

There's an Unconditional Guarantee on everything sold at Kroger stores. It is one more way Kroger is trying to serve you better.

See both sides before you buy!

Every fresh-cut morsel of our meat is packaged in clear plastic trays so you can see everything—the cut, amount of fat, and bone—from every side. No rewrapping or labeling is necessary for freezing and these trays will not stick or leave fuzz on the meat.
